Delcor's bespoke service guarantees that height, length and depth requirements are met and our customer's individual design considerations are at the forefront of each job we fulfill; creating comfort and unique styling for all of our clients.

It is our policy at Delcor to only use the highest grade of upholstery fabrics, which meet our standards of quality and longevity, including our pet-proof and eco-friendly range, with all the hallmarks of styles for living.

With the same consideration for our customer's needs, we additionally stock Aquaclean and Fibreguard fabrics, practical and strong fabrics in a range of textures and finishes.

Providing not only a quality of product and service, we are also proud to carry the "Made in Britain" mark; an official collective mark for British manufacturers, recognising quality craftsmanship, uniting the British manufacturing industry and reflecting a standard and code of conduct, evident in our products.

At Delcor we've been flying the flag for British craftsmanship since 1967. Our made-to-measure upholstered furniture is made entirely in our dedicated workshops in beautiful Northumberland. Handcrafted furniture delivered and assembled on site to clients' complete satisfaction.

Our in-house team designs all of our furniture, combining classical design history with the best of contemporary styles, following which our highly skilled master craftspeople hand-make each piece individually with specialist skills perfected over generations.

So confident in our design and build process, we offer a 50 year frame guarantee on all Delcor furniture.

Finally, we deliver all our handcrafted furniture personally. Our dedicated transport team take the greatest care to place your clients furniture in their homes to enjoy for many years.

If bespoke quality is of key importance to you when choosing sofas and chairs, then Delcor is for you. If UK craftsmanship is also important, then welcome to Delcor.
